The Metropolitan Hotel.

This huge establishment, after an expenditure of $950,000, and three years of constant labor, is completed and opens on the first of September. It is, with scarcely an exception, the most gorgeously furnished hotel in existence. Magnificent mirrors, costly upholstery and cabinet ware, choice marly upholstery and cabinet ware, choice marbles and rich velvet carpetings, render its apartments luxurious to a degree not easily described. The building, which has a frontage on Broadway and Prince street of five hundred and sixteen feet, or nearly one-tenth May 20 of a mile, is five stories in height and beau- LETTER AND WRITING PAPER. of a mile, is five stories in neighbor with rich frestifully decorated throughout with rich frest W co painting, of every shade of color and variety of style. Besides these, there are about two hundred gentlements, there are about two hundred gentlements are about two hundred gentlements are now have a very fine article, and for servants, the largest stock ever offered in this market. Prices, men's rooms, finished in a style but little inferior, with hot and cold baths and every other convenience. All the principal rooms are provided with rosewood furniture, and variously colored heavy silk brocat-lle .--The entire building will accommodate from 600 to 700 guests.

Mirrors, both mantel and pair glasses, are placed in the main parlors, the aggregate expense of which is not far from $18 .-000. The largest are 94 by 84 feet, and are wider than any previously imported.— One of these is placed in the bridal parlor, which is the most gorgeously furnished of any in the building. The bedstend alone cost $1,000, and the bed-spread, which is of canary-colored satin, embroidered with needle work, cost $300. The drapery in this parler, with its suit of rooms, cost $2,500. The cabinet furniture is covered with gold and orange brocatelle. In decorating the parlors and dining halls, from $10,000, to $12,000 has been expended.

The carpetting was selected abroad, and comprises patterns of rare beauty and of very tasteful design. One of the gentlemen's parlors is covered with a single piece of very heavy tapestry, which is peculiarly beautiful. In all there are over 13,000 yds.

There are three large dining halls, suited to as many different hours for serving dinner, elegantly decorated with freeco work, and bung with massive chandeliers of a new pattern. Altogether there are five flights stairs. The principal from the centre, is of oak, with the ceil adjacent supported by columns of scagliola or a composition of marble fragments or colored cements, susceptible of a high polish and of rare beauty. Immediately above are the ladies' parlors, superbly furnished.

The silver and China ware is of a costly description. Two dining setts cost $1,600. The China ware required for this establishment, was sufficient in quantity to fill seventy-five large casks.

In the rear of the building are large steamboilers, from which the building is hented through iron tubes. Baggage will be raised by it through all the stories, in dummies The clothes will be washed and dried b steam, and steam will be made auxiliary t the cooking department.

Some $20,000 has been expended for marble with which to creet fire places mantels, &c., which comprise beautiful specimens of Sienna, pink Lisbon, brocatelle, and statuary marble—[N. Y. Jour. C. m.

VALUE OF WIVES IN CHINA .- Not long since a young English merchant took hi youthful wife with him to Hong-Kong, Chi na, where the couple were visited by wealthy Mandarin. The latter regarded the lady very attentively, and seemed to dwell with delight upon her movements. When she had at length left the apartment, he said to the husband in broken English, (worse than broken China:)

the singular error of his visitor, "two phy thousand dollars."

This, the merchant thought, would ap pear to the Chinese rather a high figure, but ie was mistaken.

book with an air of business, "s'pose you give her to me; I give you five thousand." It is difficult to say whether the your merchant was more amazed than amused; but the very grave and solemn air of the Chinaman convinced him that he was in sober earnest; and he was compelled, therefore, to refuse the offer with as much placidity as he could assume.

The mandarin, however, continued to press his bargain:

The merchant, who had no previous no tion of the value of the commodity which he had taken out with him, was compelled at length to inform his visitor that Englishmen were not in the habit of selling their wives after they were once in their possession-an assertion which the Chinaman was very slow to believe. The merchant afterwards had a hearty laugh with his young and pretty wife, and told her that he had just discovered her full value, as he had that moment been offered seven thousand dollars for her; a very high figure, "as wives were going" in China at the time! - [Harper's Magazine.
